Twelve credits by advisement, limited to courses from the above emphases, EDPC courses, or courses in instruction from the School of Education. Three credits may be fulfilled by writing a thesis.

TOTAL credits for General Emphasis—30*EdS: School Psychology

The EdS in School Psychology provides training for a professional career as a certified or licensed school psychologist. EdS-level school psychologists work primarily in public and private-school systems, preschool settings, and child-development centers. Typical responsibilities are assessment, diagnosis, consultation, program planning, and intervention services to preschool and school-age children with educational, emotional, and behavioral problems.

Admission. Students may enter the EdS program in School Psychology if they have a master's degree in psychology, education or a related field. An applicant with a good academic record may enter without a master's degree, providing the applicant has an undergraduate major in psychology, education or a related field, a GPA of 3.0, introductory courses in the following areas: statistics, learning theories or educational psychology, and human development, and current satisfactory scores on the GRE General Tests. Applicants must also meet the general requirements listed in the Graduate Programs and Academic Information portions of the Admission and Academic Information sections of this bulletin.

Students admitted to the EdS without a master's degree may elect to receive a MA en route or may proceed directly to the EdS degree. Students who want the MA degree must take the MA comprehensive examinations. Students continuing to the EdS without receiving the MA are not required to take these exams.

Students are required to take the NTE School Psychology (Praxis II) exam and submit a satisfactory portfolio in addition to the requirements below.

Prior to clinical experiences or classes with child contact, students will be required to complete a clearance form indicating whether they have been convicted of a felony. Having a prior conviction may make it impossible to complete the program.

Students must demonstrate computer competency.

DOCTORAL DEGREE PROGRAMS

General admission requirements for doctoral degree programs in the School of Education are stated in the Graduate Programs and the Academic Information portions of the Admission and Academic Information sections of this bulletin. In addition to these requirements, applicants for admission to doctoral programs in the Department of Educational and Counseling Psychology must complete an interview with the coordinator of the program to which the individual is applying and two other program faculty members. Additional requirements for admission to the Department of Educational and Counseling Psychology are listed under the separate program descriptions which follow.

The student may choose an emphasis in Counseling Psychology (PhD only) or Educational Psychology (EdD or PhD).

Edd: Educational Psychology—School Psychology Emphasis

This emphasis prepares individuals for the professional practice of school psychology. Doctoral-level school psychologists work in public and private school systems, colleges and universities, preschool and child-development centers, and private practice. Typical responsibilities include assessment, diagnosis, consultation, program planning, and intervention services to preschool and school-age children with educational, emotional, and behavioral problems. This is a professional degree that is aimed at preparing school psychologists for added responsibility in the area of supervision or more in-depth understanding of school psychological practice and research methodology. It is planned to be a continuation of the EdS degree. Certification/licensure as a school psychologist is advisable. If certification has not been met prior to enrollment in the doctoral program, the sequence of courses for the (EdS) program as outlined in this bulletin must be completed as part of the doctoral program.
