

The topic addressed in this bulletin is the improper locations for the storage of items based on their combustibility or their ability to obstruct the path of egress or access. This topic is